Services

Lea Fields Crematorium offers four types of services to suit you.

All forms of religious and secular services are welcome in our chapel and the service duration is determined by the type booked for the funeral. You can see details of our service types opposite:

Webcasting

With our funeral webcast, you can broadcast your service live over the internet.

Families choosing this service are provided with a private log in and password. Instructions can be shared with friends and relatives to view from home.

Cremation services

 45 mins

A 45 minute service performed hourly. An extension can also be purchased in advance, subject to availability.

Early-start services

 35 mins

Our 9am and 9:45am early-start services provide you with a 35 minutes service time. No additional time may be booked for the early start services.

Farewell service

 15 mins

An attended direct funeral that allows up to 15 family members an opportunity to say their private goodbye. This short Farewell service is self-led with no officiant leading and no eulogy. Instead the applicant may wish to choose music and a single photo tribute to be played throughout this short 15 minute service. Additional media tributes and webcast facility is also available on request so that people from further afield have the chance to view the Farewell.

Direct funerals

 0 mins

A direct cremation is when the deceased is taken straight to the crematorium without a funeral ceremony. This Direct Cremation does not allow family or friends to enter the chapel, however family members may wish to congregate in the crematorium grounds to witness the arrival of their loved one.

A chosen piece of music can be played and a photo of your loved one can be displayed on the tribute screens. When opting for an unattended service (Direct funeral) you may want to create a Virtual Memorial Service (VMS) which allows you to see your loved one's final journey. It can incorporate your chosen music, personal photos and a poetry reading.

Memorials

At Lea Fields Crematorium we understand that finding a fitting tribute in celebration of a person's life can be difficult, to help you we offer a selection of memorials.
